

Ontario Feed in Tariff Business Development Professional

Tioga Energy is a renewable energy services provider with a growing track record of successfully developing, financing, owning and operating distributed solar power systems and selling the electricity produced by those systems to a variety of commercial, industrial, and institutional customers. The team consists of seasoned, smart and dedicated professionals. Tioga Energy is backed by top-tier investors, who are passionate about building a successful company and driving rapid growth of renewable energy.

A new market for distributed solar rooftop power systems has emerged in the province of Ontario, Canada as a result of a program of the Ontario Power Authority. Under this program, the Ontario Government will enter into long term power purchase agreements (PPAs) with developers like Tioga Energy who can successfully build and operate rooftop solar power systems located on commercial, industrial, and institutional facilities in Ontario. Tioga will lease the rooftops of these facilities in order to site our solar power facilities, and sell the electricity generated to the Ontario Government under 20 year PPAs.
